

CONFUCIUS INSTITUTE UNIVERSITY OF KARACHI

Confucius Institute at University of Karachi (CIUK) is a non-profit institution sponsored by the headquarters of Confucius Institutes. On 22nd May, 2013, Chinese Premier Li Keqiang and Pakistan President Asif Ali Zardari witnessed the signing of MOU of establishing CIUK by Sichuan Normal University and University of Karachi.

The Mission of CIUK is to facilitate the teaching of Chinese language to people who want to learn Chinese and promote people to people contact between Pakistan and China.

The Vision of CIUK is to be the leading Chinese language center and pursue excellence in education and people to people contact.

The Objective of CIUK is to provide the best Chinese courses and cultural activities and to help students increase their opportunities for further education and career development.

Since its inception in 2013, CIUK has developed from a small institute into the largest Chinese language center in Pakistan in terms of the number of teachers, students and teaching sites. More than 30 Chinese teachers provide courses including HSK1-6, BCT1-4, YCT1-2, and calligraphy, tea culture, dance, Chinese martial arts, Chinese culture lectures, Taiji, and paper-cutting.

CIUK is equipped with modern teaching facilities, including air-conditioned classrooms with LED, language labs, conference room, auditorium, activity room and library, etc.
